Dear Jeff:

I wanted to send a few words your way after attending the very bakovadlka ShidduchVision opening in Lakewood this past Sunday.

I recognize how you have taken a very serious issue to heart and to action, and I commend you on the concept and its implementation.

Witnessing the support of the Rosh HaYeshiva, Rav Malklel, shlita and the Mashgiach HaRav Soloman, shlita, as well as listening to the powerful words of Rav David Weinberger as to how this can create much greater opportunity for so many more singles, was encouraging and inspiring.

Naturally, there are concerns for your innovative approach, and I appreciate how you have taken extreme precautionary steps to mitigate these issues.

I believe that singles should take a very serious look at using ShidduchVision; it can help to save one, time, money, emotional energy, and most importantly, heartache.

Continued hatzlacha.

All the best,

David Lieberman
