

UPDATE

Thursday, November 05, 2009

a) ShidduchVision goes international!!!

Toronto called Monday and asked where to mail their check so we may begin the process of launching their first local ShidduchVision Studio. This will now offer singles even more opportunities to meet a greater choice of suggested matches and also offer singles a greater chance to meet more Shadchanim in Baltimore, Chicago, Lakewood and Toronto...so far! If your city is not listed, please be sure to enlist support of your local community to establish your own studio.

b) Today's (Nov 4th, 2009) Mishpacha Magazine has the second of a 2-part article by Jonathan Rosenblum on page 10 and, among other subjects, it discusses ShidduchVision.

c) Also, in today's Jewish Press, on page 62, is an article by Rosie Einhorn & Sherry Zimmerman about ShidduchVision.

d) Jonathan Rosenblum, in yet another article about shidduchim, mentions ShidduchVision in the beginning of his Yated article this week on page 81.

e) I was asked to present ShidduchVision at this year's Agudah Convention on Thursday, Nov 26th. The panel discussion and Q&A (the fun part), takes place from 3pm-5:15PM; this will be terrific exposure. How nice it would be to have many more community commitments for studios by then! Please be sure to talk about ShidduchVision to everyone you know including but not limited to, Shadchanim, singles, parents.

f) To gain a better understanding and enlighten everyone about ShidduchVision, we are currently in the beginning stages of producing a video. Sponsorship for this video-which will offer a wonderful opportunity for one to dedicate in honor, in memory, etc.,-is available at $5,000 (our cost). If you know anyone who might wish to share in this presentation by honoring a family member, friend, etc., please let me know ASAP.

Your anticipated participation is appreciated; please contribute to help the program and have the zechus of being a part of every shidduch; click here.

ShidduchVision is a system that allows a single man and a single woman in different cities to sit comfortably in front of professional video-conferencing equipment and 'meet' one another in a personal and pleasant studio setting in a local private home.

ShidduchVision was designed in consultation with rabbinical authorities – and has since gained the approbation of many prominent rabbis around the world, who see it as a proper harnessing of modern technology in the spirit of Torah to help achieve a traditional Jewish goal and benefit the community at large. For more information, contact Jeff Cohn, jeff@shidduchvision.org 443.286.7404